The

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 12.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased from 4.5 million to 6.5 million (Office of National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the community. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out the government's commitment to improve the health and social care of older people. The strategy is based on the following principles:

- Older people should be able to live independently in their own homes for as long as possible.
- Older people should be able to access the services and support they need to live well.
- Older people should be able to participate in the decisions that affect their lives.

The strategy also sets out a number of key objectives, including:

- To improve the health and well-being of older people.
- To ensure that older people have access to the services and support they need.
- To ensure that older people are able to participate in the decisions that affect their lives.

The strategy is a key document in the development of policy for older people in the UK. It sets out the government's commitment to improve the health and social care of older people, and provides a framework for the development of services and support for older people.

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the community. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out a vision for the future of older people's services. The strategy is based on the following principles: older people should be able to live independently in their own homes; older people should be able to participate in the community; and older people should be able to access the services they need.

The strategy also sets out a number of objectives for the future of older people's services. These include: to improve the quality of life of older people; to reduce the number of older people who are in care homes; to improve the access of older people to health and social care services; and to improve the training and development of staff who work with older people.

The strategy is a key document for the development of older people's services in the UK. It provides a framework for the development of policies and practices that will improve the lives of older people. It also provides a framework for the development of research that will inform the development of older people's services.

The purpose of this paper is to review the literature on the needs of older people in the community. The paper will focus on the needs of older people in the UK. The paper will also review the literature on the development of older people's services in the UK.

The paper is organized as follows. The first section will discuss the needs of older people in the community. The second section will discuss the development of older people's services in the UK. The third section will discuss the literature on the development of older people's services in the UK.

The first section will discuss the needs of older people in the community. The needs of older people in the community are complex and multifaceted. They include the need for housing, the need for health and social care services, the need for transport, and the need for social support.

The second section will discuss the development of older people's services in the UK. The development of older people's services in the UK has been a long and complex process. It has involved the development of a range of services, including residential care, day care, and home care.

To the memory of a friend and classmate,
Robert Hartz, the class of 1941 lovingly
dedicates this book.

Foreword

MEMORIES of our days at GHS will surge over us in after years. Most of these will be pleasant memories. Some will be of the fun we had, some will be of our teachers. These will be grateful thoughts for their guidance through difficult years. Some of our memories will be of occasional wasted moments and others of a tear dropped now and then over some fancied hurt.

OTH^{ER} hands will reach for their diplomas. Other students will follow our footsteps out the door. With thoughts of the future in mind we have published this annual. It was our aim to help revive the sweet and lasting memories of the days spent at Griffith High School.

Class History

1941

Glancing through the past four years, it hardly seems possible that the "dignified seniors" of '41 were the "green freshmen" of '37.

Beginning our four year tour we had 65 shy members. We trusted the guidance of our tour to President Jerry Dixon, and his assistants: Vice-President, Betty Spitz, and Sec'y.-Treasurer, Cecilia Govert, and our sponsors, Mr. Swaim and Mrs. Cook, who led us through a year of work and enjoyment.

Our adventurous tour found us as sophomores the following year with a decrease of one member. We were guided by Miss Rinard and Mr. Beck with Kenneth Moore as President, Warren Hartz as Vice-President, and Shirley Anderson as Sec'y.-Treasurer.

During the summer of '38, one of our fellow classmates, Robert Hartz, was forever lost to us.

After a three months' vacation here, we again resumed our tour in G.H.S., this time as Juniors. There was a decrease of five in our jolly crowd which now consisted of only fifty-nine. This year again, Mr. Beck and Miss Rinard resumed their positions as sponsors of our class. Our officers for this year were Bruce Cook, Pres.; Cecilia Govert, Vice Pres.; Shirley Anderson, Sec'y.; and Leila Hansen, Treas. The Junior Play, "Bashful Mr. Bobbs," was presented under the able direction of Mr. C. L. Wilson on December 4, 1939. This year we were confronted with the financial problem of raising funds for the Junior-Senior Banquet over which we presided, on May 11, 1940. We rested with the Class of '40 in an old-fashioned garden at G.H.S.

The following fall, 65 members started happily toward the end of a successful tour. Under the able direction of President Charles Yates, Vice President Robert Tignor, Secretary Shirley Anderson, Treasurer Leila Hansen, and our loyal sponsors, Mr. Beck and Mrs. Cook, we completed the home stretch of our high school tour. We presented "America First" on April 4, which proved to be another successful performance for this class.

The most courageous undertaking of the class of '41, was the publication of the "Reflector."

On May 25, we attended the Baccalaureate services given for our class. We completed our tour, on May 28 at the Commencement exercises, where the Class of '41 appeared in one group for the last time.

We are proud to be able to say that our class is the largest class to graduate from Griffith High School.

Senior Class Prophecy

The other night I went to sleep
As tired as I could be—
I dreamed of all the years to come
And each senior I could see.

Yes, Regina she was married
And Warren a doctor fine
And LaMarr was still a Romeo
Handing all the girls a line.

Swets and Domsic are playing ball;
Mae and Edwin both are teachers;
Van Til is building luxurious homes
With all the modern features.

Evansin is an engineer
Working in a mine;
Mejaaki's on the corner, saying,
"Could you spare a dime?"

Yothment and Francis are welding
And Irene is waving hair,
Bruce is in the laboratory
Taking oxygen from the air.

Textor is a housewife
Which Lois agrees is fine,
Vera is at college
And thinks it's divine.

Augusta is an artist,
Blanchard still works for Jake;
Miller is a lawyer
Who seldom makes a mistake.

Reynolds is coaching football,
While baseball is Huitsing's game;
Lynn and Tubbs are repairing cars
And Adams does the same.

Betty is happily married, and
Rosie goes dancing every night,
Tignor is a physicist like Edison,
Trying to perfect new ways of light.

Wynewing is flying a transport,
While Dick Taylor is a preacher;
Lorraine is a diving champ
While Jerrald is a teacher.

Tony's playing his accordion
Each nite with Jerry Shelton
Sporman has joined the navy
And has a girl in every port.

Oliver is a chauffeur
And Laurel is running a store
And Schwartz's love for the boys
Each day seems to grow more and more.

Goff and Hart own a trailer camp
And Shirley plays in a band,
Wilma and Norma are dancing
In the best vaudeville in the land.

Kay and Leila are reporters
And bring in a story every day.
Dot Miller married an inventor
And helps him in every way.

Betty Lou sings on the Benny hour
And Reder is happy with twins,
Ducky drives a midget Willys
And all the races she wins.

DeWitt and Drapac run a hotel,
Weyhe lives on a hill all alone,
Terpstra and Moore work for McFarland
Building all the modern homes.

Cutsinger sings in opera,
And Gracie's playing ball;
Knuth is very happy,
She'll be married in the fall.

Kochalka still goes with that trucker
And he's always late on the route;
As for Miss Helpingstines' doings,
That's something I couldn't make out.

And that, my friends,
Was my dream,
True it is,
Strange as it may seem.

Now if you don't agree with me
As to what each student will try
Please tell me just what is what
For, "You're a better man than I."

Junior Class Play

On Wednesday evening, January 29, 1941, the class of "42" presented the annual Junior Play entitled "Life Begins at Sixteen."

The central characters of this comedy were the sixteen-year-old twins, Paul and Fannie Hollis. As the curtain rises for act one, we find Mr. and Mrs. Hollis about to embark on a trip to Havana. During the absence of the parents Paul proclaims himself the "head of the family." His first duty reverts to the Hollis shoe store which is in great need of modernization; hence, he prepares his method of approach to such a project by enlisting the assistance of the "Secret Seven." An unexpected turn of events causes a delay in the proposed plans of the store when Paul becomes inquisitive of the private life of his 19-year-old sister, Marjorie. Crandal Smythe, Marjorie's boy-friend is suspected by Paul to be a racketeer; therefore, the Secret Seven set out to obtain evidence of Smythe's guilt. However, the plans of the "Secret Seven" are suddenly overturned by the unexpected return of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis. Nevertheless, fate steps in and assists Paul and Fannie in turning the tables in a satisfying manner.

The School Safety Patrol

The school safety patrol is an organization which was started in 1922 by the Chicago Motor Club to protect the school children and reduce the number of accidents among the school children. As a result of this movement, the death-rate among school children due to auto-pedestrian accidents has greatly decreased. The Chicago Motor Club supplies all the equipment for the schools in and near Chicago.

Mr. Wilson is the sponsor of our school patrol, and he has working under him as captain, Edwin Summers. The lieutenants for the 1940-'41 term were: Richard Taylor, Craig McFarland, and Joe Laich.

The services of the patrol boys are greatly appreciated both by parents and students in the community.

The Hall Patrol

The hall safety patrol was organized three years ago by Miss Schoon and has been an active organization since its incipency.

The purpose of this patrol is to keep order in the halls during the five minute intermissions, during the noon hour, and after school. Each patrol member is excused from class five minutes before the termination of the period in order that they may be at their assigned post when the buzzer sounds.

This year the hall patrol has been under the direction of Mr. Wilson. The patrols are organized in such a way as to enable the members to alternate weeks. This plan tends to prevent students from becoming bored and negligent at their posts.

Hall Monitors

The hall monitors are students who have been stationed at the various entrances of the school during their study period. The duty of these students is to check all passes and to act as an usher and informant to visitors.

Library Club

OFFICERS

President	Venita Hansen
Vice-President	Frieda Farmer
Sec'y and Treas.	Reba Brunner
Sponsor	Miss Dorothy Molehman

The Library Club was organized by Miss Virginia Rinard in 1939 and was taken over by Miss Dorothy Holehman for the 1940-'41 term.

The purpose of the club is to train interested high school girls as librarians. Members of this organization sponsored a very successful and enjoyable skating party on January 6, 1941.

The club has twenty-nine members. These girls publish a bi-weekly bulletin. A club letter may be earned by members who have belonged two years.

Broadcaster Club

Twelve years ago the Broadcaster Club was organized by the public speaking class of GHS, under the able direction of Mr. Wilson. In 1936 it was transferred to the General Business Class to be employed as a project, under the leadership of Miss Helen Wright, head of the Commercial Department. Miss Wright has remained faculty advisor of the club since the transfer.

In the beginning of the 1940-'41 school year, a new club was organized. Cecilia Govert was Editor in Chief of the Broadcaster during the first semester. At the beginning of the second semester the Broadcaster was taken over as a project of the Typing classes with Jeanne Davis as editor.

The platform of the school paper is to promote school spirit, to encourage leadership, to boost school activities, and to give recognition to deserving students.

Lettermen's Club

OFFICERS

President	Edwin Summers
Vice President	Joe Spitz
Sec'y.-Treas.	Bill Reynolds
Sponsors ...	Mr. Beck and Mr. Armon

The Lettermen's Club was organized in 1934 by Coach R. C. Beck in order to bring into closer contact those boys who have won awards in sports. Any boy who has won a major or minor letter in a sport automatically becomes a member.

It is the aim of the Lettermen's Club to promote sportsmanship and fair play, as the paramount objective of athletics.

Each year the Lettermen's Club sponsors a Football Dance, at which a football queen is chosen. This year the honor went to Eleanor Govert, a junior.

The Lettermen's Club has also undertaken to pay for athletic insurance. This insurance covers the athlete whether he is injured during practice or in interscholastic competition.

Girls' Athletic Association

OFFICERS

President	Lorraine Govert
Vice President	Dorothy Williams

The Girls' Athletic Association has long been an outstanding club in the high school. The club is composed of girls who are primarily interested in athletics and social activities.

The Club personnel is composed of four class representatives and the four officers. This board of control meets with Miss Schoon, the sponsor, semi-monthly to plan future programs.

The important social function of the club is the annual GAA Spring Formal Dance. With the profits obtained from the various activities the club has purchased equipment to be used for inter-class competition.

During the 1939-'40 school year, the club adopted a blue and white sweater to indicate their membership. At present there are sixty-five girls wearing GAA sweaters.

B a n d

The first GHS Band was organized in 1938 by Mr. Allen Britton. The first year there were only 32 band members of whom only two had ever had previous band training. Under Mr. Britton's careful guidance, the band has progressed very rapidly. The present band now consists of 60 members with more than 30 other students taking band instruction.

On April 19, 1941, the G.H.S. Band motored to Hebron to compete in the Annual Band Contest. This was the first year the band entered the contest and they took first place in Division D. Winning this they were entitled to compete in the State Band Contest at Hartford on May 3.

On April 26, the band members sponsored a very successful tag day sale to raise funds for the trip to Hartford.

A Band Parents' Association, organized in 1940 to sponsor social activities, purchased uniforms and equipment for the band.

Glee Club

Soft strains of music are wafted through the halls. Lovely sopranos and altos are mixed with the deeper voices of the boys as they sing their bass and tenor notes. Yes, it is the Glee Club ably directed and instructed by Miss Mitchell. This is Miss Mitchell's first year at GHS. We started our Glee Club as freshmen under the sponsorship of Mr. Kelly Adams, who was replaced in our sophomore year by Mr. Allen Britton. Mrs. Crawford saw us through the Junior year.

We have entertained our parents and teachers at P.T.A., showered our fellow students with their favorite songs during convocation, and endured stage fright through four operettas. We gave our final operetta on May 2, 1941. This was "Sun-bonnet Sue" which will long be remembered by all of us.

Senior Play

On April 4, 1941, the Class of '41 presented their annual play to the Griffith community entitled "America First." It was a grand success, and everyone who attended enjoyed it immensely. A brief outline of the play follows:

Lee Holmes, a high school boy, is persuaded by Jimmy Banks, a tough young egg, to join a dancing club which is operated by Ola and Franz Kring. The dancing club is really a blind to cover subversive activities against the American government. Grandpa Holmes, Lee's grandfather, thinks it a silly idea. Since Grandpa's son Lee's father, was killed in the war, Grandpa has no sympathies with such foolishness. He also has no patience with Elizabeth Boggs, the middle-aged housekeeper. However, he is like tallow in the hands of his granddaughter, Dorothy, who is engaged to Owen Blake, second lieutenant in the Flying Cadets.

When Ola and Franz want to borrow a truck of which Gladys Caley's father owns, Lee gives the keys to the truck to Franz. In the meantime, Ann Holmes, who is Lee's mother, is astounded by Lee's declaration that he is not going to college. Frank Griffith, Ann's brother, visits the Holmes family telling them about a freight car filled with rifles that he is guarding in his capacity as a G-man. Lee accidentally sees two men hauling a bunch of heavy crates into the Kring dancing school from the truck. While threatening Lee as to what will happen if he talks, Ola finds some valuable plans of Owens. Lee also confesses to his mother the predicament he is in, and offers to expose the Krings to save Mr. Caley, who is accused of stealing the rifles. Frank Griffith gets shot which further complicates the plot. Jimmy Banks offers his help, and together with Lee and Frank, frames the Krings into admitting that they were the ones who stole the rifles and the plans. The climax comes when the Krings are captured and put into jail.

"Sunbonnet Sue"

On the night of May 2, 1941, the GHS gym was filled to capacity when the operetta, "Sunbonnet Sue," was presented by the Glee Club under the able direction of Miss Kathryn Mitchell.

Susan Clifton, the Sunbonnet Girl, is the orphaned child of musical parents. She has been left in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Abijah Scroggs, a skindint couple who have starved and stunted her.

As the play opens, Mrs. Henry Coleman, the president of the State Federation of Music Clubs, arrives in the village to conduct a contest for scholarships in music. She is accompanied by her daughter Barbara, her son Bob, and his chum Jerry. The contest is held in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Meadows. Their daughter Miranda is among the contestants. Sue asks to be allowed to take part in the contest but Mrs. Scroggs, encouraged by her daughter Evalina, harshly refuses to allow her the privilege. Sue is discouraged but relates her story to Barbara, Bob and Jerry, hence enlisting their sympathy and support. Sue tells them that she believes her parents left her some sort of property, but that the Scroggs refuse to divulge the nature of it. They promise to call on Ezra McSpavin, the village constable, and persuade him to intercede in the name of the law.

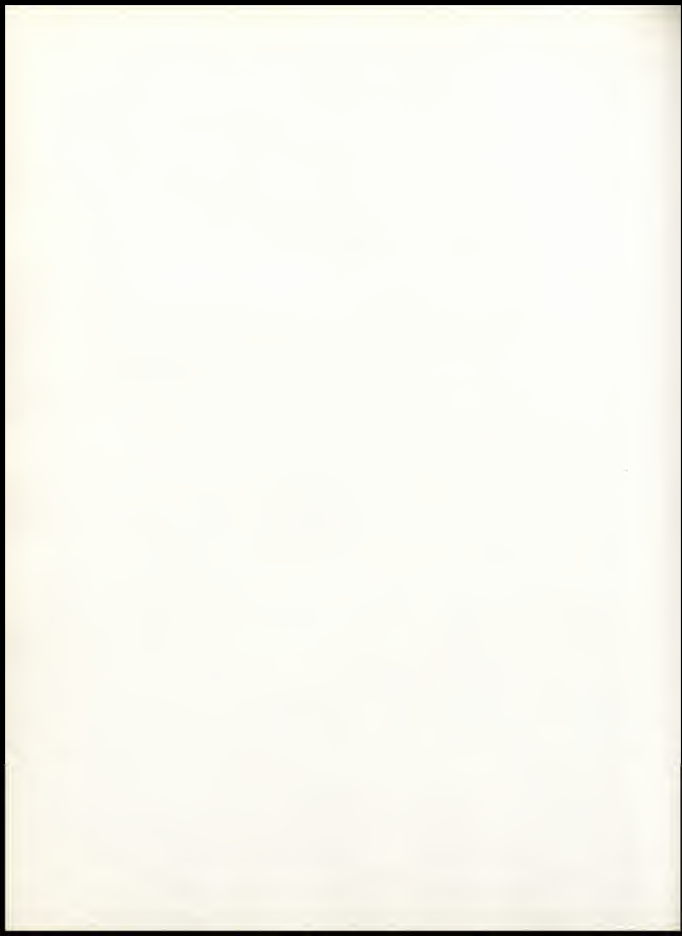

The opening of the second act discloses all the young people of the village gathered for the music contest. Mrs. Meadows declares that the list has been completed and all have taken part but Mrs. Coleman, on consulting her paper once more discovered an additional name. That of Susan Clifton. Sue appears gorgeously dressed in the height of fashion. She was completely outfitted by the sympathetic Barbara. She sings her solo and is awarded the prize.

Bob Coleman, immediately offers his heart and hand to Sue, but Sue, supposing that his interest is based on sympathy for her poverty and misfortune, refuses to listen, saying that she would be willing to consider him if only she were wealthy and independent. Constable McSpavin searched the Scroggs home and found a deed to a town lot in Los Angeles which proves to be of immense value. This proof of property removes the last barrier to the match, and the curtain falls on the prospect of a double wedding.

Basketball 1940 - 41

The Griffith Panthers opened the basketball season without a single major letterman returning to action. Because of this, it was doubtful as to whether or not it would be a successful season. The team, made up practically of inexperienced players, started the season with four straight victories before losing their fifth game to Merrillville.

Probably the most exciting and thrilling game of the season, was the Griffith-Morocco game which in the end, spelled victory for Griffith. The victory resulted from a long field-goal by Yates with six seconds to play in the game.

The Panthers experienced rather tough luck in the annual Xmas tournament at Crown Point, losing the first game to Dyer 31-23. It was a hard fought battle all the way on the part of both teams. The game was undecided until the last three minutes of play. The score stood at 23-23 then Dyer hit a hot streak and netted eight points during the last minutes of the game.

Griffith has also been somewhat unfortunate in their Lake-Porter Conference games, winning three while losing four. The Panthers have defeated most of these teams that beat them in conference games, when they met them the second time. Taking everything into consideration, our team had a successful basketball season and we were more than satisfied with the outcome.

The record for the season is fourteen wins and seven losses.

The second team has also had a very successful season, losing only two games—to East Gary and Merrillville. These boys are expected to go places for GHS in the next two years.

The Freshman team under tutelage of Coach "Chuck" Armon, sailed through an undefeated season with twelve wins. The Frosh captured the Little Four tournament held at Crown Point by defeating Hobart and Crown Point by wide margins.

The student managers for the team are—Jerry Dixon, head manager; and Raymond Harper, Warren Peters, and Billy Christenson, assistant managers.

Peter Phillips	Laurel Davis
George Konopasek	Gerrit Huitsing

Baseball

The baseball team of '39 and '40 season was run on an experimental basis. After a lay-off of several seasons the boys of GHS showed a renewed interest in baseball. Although outmatched in their encounters last season the team proved to be a formidable foe.

Coach Armon is counting on Domsic, Reynolds, Konopasek, H. Mack, Hutchins, and Huitsing to place baseball on the map at Griffith High.

Track

Coach R. C. Beck and our track team are proud of another successful track season. Since only one member of last year's squad was lost due to graduation the following boys carried the brunt this last season:

100 yd. dash—Spitz and Maglish.

220 yd. dash—Spitz and Maglish.

Football

The 1940 season opened this year with Charles Armon as coach. Mr. Armon, a graduate of Purdue, received two letters in football and three letters in baseball.

The season came and went without a victory. The best games of the season were with Michigan City, Morocco, and St. Francis of Chicago. The squad was strongly overpowered by Roosevelt and Tolleston. Crown Point and Lowell proved to be very strong against the boys this season.

The GHS squad was lacking in experience and weight since it was composed largely of Sophomores and Juniors.

The first team line-up was as follows:

Backfield—G. Konopasek, r. h.; J. Spitz, f. b.; C. Yates, l. h.; G. Mack, q. b.
Line—E. Weich, r. e.; B. Kussmaul, r. t.; H. Mack, r. g.; W. Peters, c.; J. Dixon, l. g.; C. Wiltermood, l. t.; and B. Reynolds, l. e.

The squad is losing three first team men—Reynolds, Dixon and Yates, also Nywening, Evansin, and Taylor as substitutes.

The future in football looks bright and the students of GHS hope with deepest sincerity that Coach Armon has the best of luck with his teams in the coming seasons and that Windell, Parsons, Peters, Konopasek, Vracin and the Macks, the experienced players of last season, will come through with flying colors.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million, from 2.5 million in 1980 to 4 million in 1999. The public sector has grown from 10% of the economy to 17% of the economy.

There is a growing emphasis on the need to improve the efficiency of the public sector. This has led to a number of initiatives, including the introduction of competition, the restructuring of public services, and the introduction of performance targets.

One of the main reasons for the need to improve the efficiency of the public sector is the increasing pressure on public finances. The government has to spend more on public services, but it has to raise less money from taxes.

Another reason for the need to improve the efficiency of the public sector is the increasing demand for public services. The population is ageing, and there is a growing need for health and social care services.

There are a number of ways in which the efficiency of the public sector can be improved. These include the introduction of competition, the restructuring of public services, and the introduction of performance targets.

One of the main ways in which the efficiency of the public sector can be improved is by the introduction of competition. This can be done by allowing private companies to compete for public contracts.

Another way in which the efficiency of the public sector can be improved is by the restructuring of public services. This can be done by merging public services, or by transferring public services to private companies.

A third way in which the efficiency of the public sector can be improved is by the introduction of performance targets. These targets can be used to measure the performance of public services, and to identify areas for improvement.

There are a number of challenges associated with improving the efficiency of the public sector. These include the need to ensure that public services are not compromised, and the need to ensure that the public sector remains accountable to the public.

Despite these challenges, there is a growing consensus that the efficiency of the public sector must be improved. This is essential for the government to be able to meet its financial obligations, and to ensure that public services are of the highest quality.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased by 1.1 million (Office of National Statistics 2000). The number of people aged 85 and over has increased by 0.5 million.

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of the ageing population. The Department of Health (2000) has published a strategy for ageing, which sets out the government's commitment to improve the lives of older people. The strategy is based on three main principles: (1) to ensure that older people are able to live independently and actively; (2) to ensure that older people are able to access the services and support they need; and (3) to ensure that older people are able to participate in the life of their communities.

The strategy is based on the following assumptions: (1) that older people are a diverse group with different needs and interests; (2) that older people are able to live independently and actively; (3) that older people are able to access the services and support they need; and (4) that older people are able to participate in the life of their communities. The strategy is based on the following principles: (1) to ensure that older people are able to live independently and actively; (2) to ensure that older people are able to access the services and support they need; and (3) to ensure that older people are able to participate in the life of their communities.
